Profile

I am a creative and technically curious Digital Media Design graduate with a growing focus on front-end and software development. I combine a background in visual communication, multimedia design, and content production with hands-on training in modern web technologies including HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Git, and responsive UI development. Currently, I am completing the Stellenbosch University Full Stack Web & Software Engineer Bootcamp, where I am building practical experience in web applications, APIs, version control, browser storage technologies and more. I am especially interested in opportunities where design thinking and software development intersect, allowing me to create digital experiences that are both technically sound and visually engaging.
